MUNICIPAL GRAZING BY-LAW IS SUSTAINED IN TEST CASE VERDICT

A case of considerable importance to the municipal district of Merton was recently tried before J. P.s J. Clark and Ed. Campbell in the Uneeda schhol.

For many years the people of Merton have been troubled by stock men bringing in cattle and allowing them to graze on vacant land in the municipality. Every outsider who could lease a quarter section, or secure a grazing permit thought he had as good a right to range stock in the municipality as the resident ratepayer.

By its by-law there is no free range in the municipality except for residents, and they are allowed to run fifty head of cattle or horses for each quarter section owned or held under lease by the owners of the animals. This privilege is given only to owners and leases of lands residing in the municipality.

Mr. Russell McElheney, of Provost, had tried to overcome the objection as to residence by coming in with his cattle and living part time during the summer with a friend at McDonaldville. The council protested against this but again this spring, Mr. McElheney repeated the experiment and at the end of May forty of his cattle were run into pound. He paid the pound fees and released the animals from pound, and it was claimed, immediately turned them loose again. Clr Bennett then laid an information against Mr. McElheney for an infraction of the by-law.

The council was represented at the trial by Mr. J. D. Munro, of Lloydminster, while Mr. McElheney was defended by Mr. H. V. Fieldhouse, of Wainwright. The prosecution brought forward half a dozen witnesses to prove that a number of Mr. McElheney's cattle were running at large in the municipality on June 3rd. Evidence was produced to prove he was not a resident.

Mr. McElheney gave evidence which satisfied the court he had a lease on one quarter section and had applied for grazing permits on school lands in the municipality. He admitted he was part owner of the land at Provost where he lived with his brother most of the time, but he spent part of his time in Merton Municipality and made his home there with a friend. He considered he was residing in the municipality on June 3rd and that his lease of

UNWIN NEWS

The Battle River Board of Trade held a very uccesful meeting on Friday June 12th, and it was decided that they have a special meeting on June 23rd to decide a date for the Unwin sports.

The government has a crew of men busy working on the traffic bridge over the Battle river, under Mr. Tuer, a very competent bridge builder. Mr. Tuer expects to have it completed about July 15th.

Grading on the government road east from here to connect with Marsden is to start Monday. We hear that Mr. T. Lee, coun cillor on the west side of the river, will start and grade from the river west to the Alberta boundary soon.

Messrs Chapman and Hanson have purchased and opened the restaurant of O. Jamieson, who has moved his family on a farm east of town, which he purchased last spring.

The Eagle Butte baseball team came down here last Saturday to play the Unwin team, and were defeated 6-3. Better luck next time, boys.

The water in the Battle river is going down fast. One of our citizens crossed with his Ford, he says he didn't get feet his wet, either.

Mr. F. Poirier is building a large new hardware store and dwelling, and expects to put in a complete line of hardware. This will give Mr. R. Page more room for his dry goods, as they both occupy one building now.

The C. P. R. construction department have just completed a temporary automobile bridge the Battle river at this point.

Born to Mr and Mrs. O. O. Jamieson, at the Lashburn hospital, on June 9th, a son.

A large number from here and just across the river took in the carnival and sports at Lloydminster last Tuesday.

The C. P. R. have seven grading outfits between here and Lloydminster. They claim they will be ready for the steel before freeze up. We understand the C. P. R. will be building their bridge soon. This will mean this road will be opened before snow flies again.

The crops are looking very good around our district. Everybody is wearing a smile.

The townsite department have a crew of men surveying lots for the townsite here now.

Saker's for Service, Price and quality.

STOCK JUDGING LESSON GIVEN TO LADS OF DISTRICT BY J. W. ELLIOTT

The lessons on stock judging given by principal J. W. Elliott of the Vermilion school of agriculture in the Chauvin school on Saturday proved very interesting and was well attended by boys, within the age limit of 12 to 19 years—Chauvin, Butze, Roros, Killarney and Edinglassie all being well represented.

Mr. Elliott, who is a skilful draughtsman, illustrated the points he wished to emphasize by drawings of animals on the blackboard, which helped his youthful hearers to a much clearer understanding of the points he wished to make.

As time was short he confined his remarks to cattle of the types known as beef and dairy, and having enumerated the various breeds in these types, with a special explanation of the dual purpose cow, he went on to show the characteristics of each type, and in what way they differed. For instance, speaking broadly, the beef type should present the appearance of a rectangle, when looked at from the four points of view, i.e., front, back, side and top. On the other hand, the true dairy type presented more the appearance of a triangle, looked at in these same four ways. He went very fully into the reasons for this.

In the beef type it was essential to have an animal whose natural tendency was to build flesh upon the body points carrying the most expensive cuts of beef when dressed, viz, the hind quarters. By aid of blackboard and chalk, he illustrated just how the perfect type should look and also showed a reverse picture of how it should not look. He travelled over the entire cut of the animal and named its various parts, and had the class do likewise.

In the dairy type he showed why the front quarters should not be too "beefy" in type, why the body part should be well developed, and the heart girth sufficient. He explained the meaning of the "milk vein," what is should look like, and its effect on the milk.

CAUGHT UNDER CAR

Messrs Larson and Peterson, of Doley district, came into Edgerton and while on their way home their car overturned about three miles south of town and the occupants were caught under the car. Mr. Woodruff and Mr. Swindlehurst, who were on their way to Doley picnic, drove up and saw their plight and immediately got help and telephoned to town for the doctor to go out. Dr. Meling was shortly on the scene and gave the injured men attention. One of the men was practically unhurt but the other had suffered some injuries and was unconscious. The doctor ordered them to be taken to their homes.

POOL MEETING HELD IN IRMA

Last Saturday June 13th a meeting was held in Irma to consider and organize for the three new pools now being formed in the Province.

W. F. Stevens, former Live-stock Commissioner for Alberta and now a director and secretary of the Livestock Pool spoke on the aims and objects of the livestock pool. Mr. Stevens who through years of experience has a thorough knowledge of the livestock business discussed in a very clear and able manner the main provisions in the contraact and the various ways in which the pool had made provisions to take care of the farmer's interests. He showed the disastrous effects of dumping on the market and how this might be avoided through co-operative marketing as planned for by the pool. Incidents were quoted to show how speculators had made fortunes at the expense of the stock grower. As when hogs were selling in Alberta at 8 cents and heavy sows were docked four cents and certain speculators bought these sows up by the carload at a fifty per cent dockage in Alberta and sold them at a huge profit on Chicago markets where there was a keen demand for this type of hog and where the only dockage was ten per cent in weight.

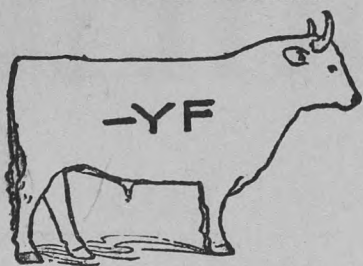

The stock growers by organizing and joining the livestock pool could through ther own management save these profits for themselves which now go to the speculator. A few questions were asked Mr. Stevens and those who were present semed to have no doubt about the future success of the pool. Everyone apreciated the opportunity of having the former Livestock Commissioner here to explain the details about the livestock pool and it was unfortunate that more people did not attend the meeting for it is nearly ten years since Mr. Stevens spoke to an Irma audience.

Mrs. F. E. Wyman director and Secretary of the poultry pool spoke after Mr. Stevens and gave an excellent outline of the plans of the poultry pool. Mrs. Wyman made a special appeal to the women to boost the poultry pool. It is the women who care for the little chicks and turkeys and gather the eggs and it is up to them to see that what they get for eggs and poultry when they are sold is worth the effort aand care and trouble raising them. The women of the province are taking a very keen interest in this pool and with the assistance of the government who are ready to turn over to the pool the storage and marketing facilities they now have there is no reason why the poultry pool can not make it worth while for women to raise more and better poultry. All over the province Mrs. Wyman said the Women are signing-up the poultry pool in great num-

My Views Of A Future Life

The Reality of Our Survival

By Sir Oliver Lodge, in "Tit-Bits."

Our material bodies wear out and have to be left behind; no material objects are premanent, they always decay sooner or later, but the soul of a thing is not in the material presentation.

The material side of a picture is canvas and pigment, nothing else could be detected by a microscope; but to such an examination there is no "picture," the "soul" or meaning—the "reality"—has evaporated when the material object is contemplated in that analytical manner. So it is with our bodies: dissected they are muscle and blood-vessel and nerves—a wonderful mechanism; but no such examination can detect the soul or mind.

THE EAR DOES NOT HEAR

Mind utilizes and dominates matter; it uses it for purposes of demonstration and achievement, it employs it as a vehicle of manifestation, but it is a deadly mistake identify thought and personality with any assemblage of atoms. The brain is a pulpy mass of matter, mysteriously contrived so as to react to thought; but the brain does not think, it does not plan, nor see, nor hear. Only the mind does these mental things, the brain is its instrument. Without it, and its nervous and muscular co-ordination, we should be powerless to move matter, and therefore powerless to speak or write or convey our impressions or express our thoughts.

Our whole material body is an assemblage of atoms cunningly put together so as to make a structure of wonderful ingenuity and beauty of adaptation; every part is allotted to its proper function, and we live here and now by the co-operation and harmonious working of the whole. That is how we live here upon earth, and how we make ourselves known to others who are in like case.

The particles which compose our body were collected together from vegetable and animal substance, and arranged by the indwelling or physis entity which may be called life or soul, and which we do not pretend to fully understand. But therein lies the soul, the character, the memory: not in the mechanism.

The eye does not see, any more than the photographic camera sees: it is we who see and hear by means of these receiving instruments. They are stimulated by vibrations, and strangely enough we can interpret these vibrations

WE, OURSELVES, DO NOT DIE

We interpret sense-indications into a landscape, or a poem, or a work of art. When we listen to speech, all that we receive is vibrations of the air: the senses of animals receive just the same, but they have not the mind to interpret.

The faculty of interpretation is amazing. By certain ingenious devices we have just learnt how to interpret ether waves into harmony and sense. To confuse our real existence with the instrument is merely stupid.

The very shape of the body depends upon nothing material, it does not depend upon the nature of the food supplied, as the shape of a crystal does: the same food could equally well have been made a chicken or a pig. There is no personal identity in the particles, or in their aggregation: the personal identity belongs to the soul, the vivifying, animating principle which put them together and which allots to each particle its office.

The protoplasmic cell which enters the blood in the course of digestion goes to some part of the tissues, and is there arranged according to its locality. In one place it will contribute to a nail, in another to a hair, in another to a muscle or the skin. Wound the skin, it is soon retored; cut a nerve, it heals up again. Marvellous is the process—utterly beyond our conscious power. Who by taking thought could grow a toe nail, or a tooth, or a hair?

The physics and chemistry of the process can be studied, but the guiding intelligent, indwelling immanent power eludes our ken. All is obedient to law and order; the laws can be formulated, the process observed and described by skilful observers; but that is only the mechanism. So we might study the structure of a bridge, or an engine, or a wireless set, but the conceiver or designer would not be visible.

To identify the animating power with the material vehicle is to stultify ourselves and to shut our eyes to reality. A violin, or an organ is an instrument: but the music requires a musician.

We ourselves are not matter, we use matter and discard it: the body is our instrument, it only lasts for a time then it has to be buried or burnt; it has served its turn and its particles may now serve another organism.

We, ourselves, never enter the tomb: we continue an uninterrupted existence. We may probably have another mode of manifestation—another body in that sense—although no longer made of matter: the old material body is dead and done with, it will never be resuscitated by us. There is no resuscitation of a corpse, once it is completely dead: that would be no glorified resurrection: that would be either a strange inexplicable miracle, or else a mere horror.

Those who have limited themselves to a material view of existence, and closed their eyes to reality, necessarily take a low and limited view of human destiny, and think the idea of survival nonsense. If the brain is the mind, if all memory is stored there, if it is not only the instrument for reproducing and manifesting thoughts and ideas, but is the actual human being—a strange notion—then indeed we are feeble, ephemeral creatures, living our thousand months and then returning to the dust whence we came. A futile sport, without permanence, without meaning. All our hopes and faith and charity, all our joy and sorrow and self-sacrifice, going for nothing, blotted out and ceasing as a tale that is told.

THE TRUTH ABOUT RESURRECTION

To such theorizers, the only notion of survival would be resuscitation of the bodily mechanism, an attempt at which is rightly called necromancy, a dealing with the corpse. There have been times when it was really believed that the graves would yield up their dead, that there would be a general resuscitation, and that our poor discarded worn-out agglomerates of earthly particles would be collected together and be tortured or petted to all eternity. Emancipate yourselves from so gross a superstition.

MY VIEWS ON THE FUTURE LIFE

In contrast to that, what is the truth? The truth is that we ourselves are not subject to mortality; that we do not decay or wear out, that we have a premanent existence beyond the life of the material, fleshly organism which we inherited from the rest of animal creation; that it is the animating, compelling and dominating spirit which really constitutes 'ourselves,' and that this persists apart from the accidents which can happen to the body, and subject only to those evils which may assault and hurt the soul: that we are able to ascend to heights unspeakable, and to descend to corresponding depths.

The permanent human element is the character—the will. That is what determines man's destiny. We have risen above mechanism, we are not coerced, we do not run in groves like a street-car, we are free to direct our course: we sit at the helm and can choose our path. Many of us are content as long as we keep clear of obstacles and spin along the highway, but some can do more than that: they have, as it were, wings, they can soar out of the dusty highways of vulgar life, at least for moments: they can rise into freedom and beauty, they can sing like the lark and call us poor plodders to share in the ecstasy and the beauty and the majesty of the universe, of which they are beginning to catch more than a fleeting glimpse.

THE MEANING OF EXISTENCE

Man is not fully-developed man as yet, when only a few out-top their fellows: the time will surely come when all will be able to realize their birth-right. Much of the present unrest is a groping after higher things, a feeling that this world cannot be all: that education and leisure are objects worth struggling for: that there are prizes above the present scope of the average man. Terribly mistaken are some of the efforts: selfishness dogs and damages the ideals; but sooner or later all this can be rectified.

Man is barely civilized as yet, we have too much leeway to make up: but there is plenty of time. For the individual and also for the race there is a magnificent prospect ahead: and if we can set our faces firmly towards the right, and seek for guidance which is certainly forthcoming, if we try to ascertain what is really the meaning of existence, and get our wills right with the effort which seems to us divine, then beyond these voices we shall attain to peace and to the service which is perfect freedom.

I speak of help or guidance. That too, is a reality: it is not forced upon us, but can be ours if we ask for it. Multitudes have lived and striven on the earth, and they are not extinct. There is plenty of room in this great universe, in which nothing really goes out of existence. It may be beyond our ken, but it never ceases to be. Even the atoms of matter seem permanent. Every fraction of energy is conserved: there is no destruction, only change. So it has ben with all who have lived; and we know how some of them have energized and suffered to help humanity.

POWERS OF GOOD

Think you they will labour no more, will rest and leave us in neglect and loneliness? Not so! We are not alone; we are only some of the agents who are striving after better conditions. A mighty army is at work; not at the work of destruction, but at the work of regeneration, stimulation, help and guidance. They have not abandoned the conflict, they are at it still: regarding it now from a higher standpoint, seeing and lamenting our blunders, and ready to lend a helping hand. All doubtless subject to a Higher Power beyond our conception, and which yet works by law, and by physical means, and by agents, in ways we cannot fashion, but can gladly acknowledge. The destiny of the individual depends largely upon himself. Th destiny of the race depends upon us and upon those who have gone before. We are co-workers together. That happier state which is called the Kingdom of Heaven is the aim and goal: it is to be reached on earth some day. Towards that nd immortal powers are working. Unruly rules retard it, greed and strife oppose it; but surely the powers of good are the stronger, and in the end will prevail.

MANKIND STILL IN INFANCY

This is a wonderful and beautiful earth: this episode of earth-lifefile is plainly of tremendous importance in the scheme. Some day our ideals will be realized, some day humanity will rise nerer to the possibilities which we now begin to see are within its scope. For already mankind has thrown up Plato and Shakespeare and Newton, like mountain peaks which catch the rising sun before the valleys and the plain: and when the average man has reached this altitude, what will the peaks be then?

We little know what we may become, whether as individuals or as a human race; we have but recently risen, we are still in the embryo stage, ugly and unfinished: hardly yet have we attained to childhood. As Browning says—likening the development of man to the appearing of the stars out of the twilight—one or two first and then a multitude:—

*** man is not Man as yet

Nor shall I deem his object served, his end Attained, his genuine strength put fairly forth, While only here and there a star dispels The darkness, here and there a towering mind O'erlooks its prostrate fellows: when the host Is out at once to the despair of night, When all mankind alike is perfected, Equal in full blown powers—then, not till then I say; begins man's general infancy.

SEVERAL MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL DISTRICTS BEING ORGANIZED

Considerable activity in the organization of municipal hospital districts in the province is noticed. Those now in process of formation are Stettler, Sedge-wick, Vulcan and Warner. The Provincial Health Department has also been notified of the closing of the Innisfail private hospital, and is asked to consider the formation of a municipal hospital district in that vicinity. The On-oway municipal hospital has made an enviable record for the month of May, in that its cost of operation per patient day for that month is but $1.98, which includes the payment of 1-12th of the fixed charges. This hospital maintains a full-salaried doctor and staff.

The farmer took the new man out to a field and started him at ploughing behind two horses. Two hours later the new man returned to the house utterly exhausted. The farmer asked him how she was getting on. "Not gettin' on at all" snapped the man, disgustedly. "How do you expect me to hold a plough with two strong horses trying to pull it away from me all the time?"

The Sunday School girls of a certain church put flowers in front of the pulpit every Suday. One was asked by an elderly person what they did with the flowers after the service. "Oh, we take them to people who are sick after the sermon." was the innocent reply.

Bobby: "Oh, Mummie, that man's bald." Mother: "Hush, dear, or he will hear you." "But he knows already, doesn't he."

STOCK JUDGING LESSON GIVEN TO LADS OF DISTRICT BY J. W. ELLIOTT

producing qualities of the cow.

He illustrated the wonderful mechanism of the shoulder bone, which operates so perfectly, and cannot be equalled by any man-made invention, and referred to the dairy cow as a wonderful machine, capable of producing 30 times her own weight in milk. One of the first essentials required by her to do this was a good constitution as represented by heart, lungs and stomach girth.

Mr. Elliott's lesson was listened to intently by the boys, whom he complimented for turning out so well, and for the intelligence and interest they had shown in answering his questions. He told them of the work the Vermilion school was doing with the British boys, and its success, and gave particulars of the five months winter course offered to the farm boys in the Vermilion territory which includes the Chauvin district also. In closing he advised that the next lesson should be given from "live" illustrations; as a good way of getting into practice. Mr. N. Strachan, speaking as one of the committee, replied to this by stating his pleasure in the instruction given, and undertook to see that facilities would be provided for holding such a class, if Mr. Elliott would promise to come back again. This, Mr. Elliott promised to do, some time in July if at all possible, as he certainly was convinced that in the class of boys present, there was splendid material for making into good judges of stock.

SHERLOCK LADIES CLUB

Just a last reminder that on Friday evening June 26th the ladies of the Sherlock Lake School District are giving a social evening and Dance. This, we presume, will form the official opening of the new school, which is now completed and looks good to the eye. There will be pies sold by auction, made by the ladies, and the proceeds of the evening will be devoted to the payment for the new organ which will be on hand Friday evening. The admission will be 50 cents, and the time fixed for 8 o'clock. Ladies will please bring baskets. Turn out in crowds and give the school a real "Send off."

EDGERTON SPORTS TO BE HELD JULY 29

A very enthusiastic meeting was held in Gorton's poolroom for the purpose of deciding on a sports day and arranging the necessary committees. A new executive, consisting of Messrs Parkinson, president; E. M. Gorton, vice-president; R. Coupland, secretary, was elected and arrangements made for a big day on the 29th of July, the date selected for these sports. Horse racing will be featured this year and work will be commenced at once on the track, which is ideally located and a natural saucer, so that fast racing will be possible. Baseball will also be on the list and also basketball and the usual track and field sports.

The posters announce that HORSE RACING will form part of the many attractions for the First of July picnic at Manitou Lake. This is NOT SO, and Horse Racing was inserted on the bills in a printer's error. In making this correction we would like to add that all arrangements have been completed and this year's picnic will prove a record breaker.

MR. W. J. PARK, OF VANCOUVER SPEAKS AT WAINWRIGHT ON POOLS

Last Friday afternoon W. J. Park president and managing director of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers Association spoke to farmers of the Wainwright district on the problem of marketing farm products.

Co-operative marketing has come as a necessity in various parts of the continent where farmers have not been getting enough from the sale of farm products to maintain a standard of living on an equality with other classes. Where farmers are prosperous they are satisfied and are little interested in co-operative marketing and the selling of their products for a better price than they are getting under the present dumping system. From the appearance of the crops in the Wainwright district Mr. Park thought that the Wainwright farmers were more prosperous than most other farmers and therefore might not be as interested in getting better prices for their products.

When the Fraser Valley farmers organized they were mortgaged to the hilt and absolutely up against it. They had to do something or quit. They finally formed a dairy pool and signed up ninety per cent of the farmers on a long term binding contract. They had to meet the most intensive opposition because they were starting to tread on the man's toes who had been living at their expense for years. When they organized they were getting 35 cents of every dollar the consumer paid for dairy products. To-day through co-operative marketing they receive seventy cents of the consumer's dollar. This has not been done at the expense of the consumer. The consumer in Vancouver pays less for his milk than the consumer of any other city in Canada and the producer gets more than the producer in any other part of Canada. The farmers of Fraser Valley have merely done what every other class in the community has done. They have organized to merchandize their products and stop dumping them on the market. If a buyer needs and wants a pair of shoes he pays the store-keeper's price. If the store-keeper insists that he buys two pairs when he only wants one pair then the buyer sets the price. That is all co-operative marketing means. If the farmers control their own markets and only place on each market just what that market needs then the farmer can have something to say about the price of his products. If every farmer sells as he is at present market needs then he must take the buyer's price for he can't help himself.

The farmer cannot blame the drover or the agent who buys his product for the price he receives. If the farmer thinks that he can sell his product just the same as he can teach his children, doctor his family, or be his own lawyer then he must take the consequences. The farmer is entirely to blame for the inefficient method of selling farm products. If the store-keeper places a number of articles on counter to be sold at once because he needed a little money then he would have to take what the buyer is willing to give him. No man does business that way except the farmer. He is the only man in the community who is still doing business under eighteenth century methods. The doctors, the lawyers, the merchants, the teachers, the printers, the miners, the railway men and every other person is organized to better the condition of the people belonging to that particular class and to sell to better advantage services, labor or products. Co-operative marketing in one form or another is the key-note of modern civilization.

The three new pools now being organized in the Province of Alberta for the selling of Dairy, Livestock and Poultry is the attempt of the producers of these products to do just what the wheat growers are doing through the wheat pool. The principles are absolutely the same as those of the many successful co-operative pools in the United States and in other countries. The producers must first organize to control a product and when they have done this they should hire the best brains in the country to sell it for them to their advantage. In every case where the producers have signed a long term contract and have sufficient volume in their control, they have obtained, through elimination of waste and duplication and through orderly marketing the real value of their products.

After the meeting many farmers came forward and signed contracts for the three new pools. Canvassers have been appointed to cover the district but in case anyone is missed contracts will be available at the Post Office Wainwright. Reports have come in from several points where the farmers have signed up ninety per cent strong for the three pools. The campaign lasts until the 28th of June. Any farmer who believes in being on an equality with other classes and who is looking for fairer prices for his products should sign up at once. Don't wait until it is too late.

Two pictures next week. Monday's show will include Buster Keaton in "Sherlock Junior," and on Sports day, July 3rd, another film will be here (title to be announced next week). This will be run over twice, the first showing at 6 o'clock p.m. and the second at 7.45 p.m. Don't miss bringing the family to see the "movies" on Sports Day.

BASEBALL NOTES

An interesting game was played on the Chauvin diamond last Thursday evening between Wainwright and Chauvin. The home team got away with a lead of three runs early in the game, after which Wainwright swung the game their way by getting the next six, four of which in one innings. Then fortune changed and the home team recovered fully adding four more to their score. Thus victory came to the home team with a 7-6 score in their favor.

CANADA TO HAVE
IN NEAR FUTURE

Falling in line with Australia and New Zealand, Canada is to have a new flag, which will be recognized as the flag of the Dominion. The government has passed an order-in-council appointing a committee to consider and report on the most suitable design for a Canadian National flag for use ashore.

A distinctive Canadian flag has so far been authorized for use only by Canadian government owned vessels and by other vessels and by other vessels of Canadian registry. In the former case the flag is the Blue Ensign, with the Canadian arms in the fly, while merchant vessels of Canadian registry use to the Red Ensign with the Canadian arms in the fly.

The committee has three suggestions before it at present. The first is to continue the use of the Canadian arms as Canada's national flag. The second is to use the Union Jack with the Canadian arms in the centre. The third is to adopt an entirely new ensign.

One way to prevent seasickness is to remain on shore.

After hearing the arguments pro and con the J.P.'s decided he was not. They held that coming into the municipality for short periods while his home was elsewhere could not make the defendant a resident of the municipality. They ordered him to pay fifty dollars and costs for breaking the bylaw.

POOL MEETING HELD IN IRMA

bers. It is the small producers who need the pool more than anyone else and it is they who are the most interested.

Mrs. Wyman is not only a very able but a very interesting speaker as well and all who were present appreciated the trouble she had gone to in coming to Irma to address a meeting for at this time she is entirely occupied directing the campaign from the pool office in Edmonton. Mrs. Wyman left a bunch of contracts with Mr. Masson and every canvasser has contracts for all three pools so the women who are interested in getting more for their eggs and J. R. Love, director of the Dairy Pool also spoke briefly on in signing a contract.

Good pipes and good pipe values are here also cigars, cigarettes, smoking tobacco and other things smokers want.
G. Mc NUTT

the dairy pool. Mr. Love contended that we only get paid according to the interest we take in the marketing of our products. Mr. Love said the people in the Irma district have been more satisfied apparently with cream prices than the people in Hardisty, Hughenden and Metiskow districts where Mr. Love had just been holding meetings down there because the people were not satisfied the Burns Co. paid their patrons through a bonus five to six per cent more for cream than was paid to the Irma patrons. Under the present system of marketing loyalty to a local creamery is a sacrifice to the producer. Down on the C.P.R. line where people are disloyal to a local creamery and ship to the Sedgewick Co-operative Burns pays five or six more for cream than is paid here.

People who are satisfied with that system of doing business should not join the pool but those who want to have something to say about the price of butter-fat should sign up at once. Co-operative marketing has been tested in Denmark for seventy-five years and to-day there is less poverty in Denmark than any other country in the world. Every single article sold in the market to day, except the farmer's products is sold on the basis of cost of production plus a profit. The farmer never will sell on that basis until he organizes to do so. It is entirely up to him. Nobody else will look after his interests but himself and he can only do that through co-operative marketing and pooling his products instead of dumping and selling against his neighbour.

After the meeting several contracts for the different pools the different pools depends entirely on the number of farmers who sign-up. Those who have not yet signed up are asked to see their nearest canvasser and do so at once as the campaign ends on the 28th of June. Meetings still to be held and names of canvassers are published in this paper. This is the farmer's business and it is up to him to show whether he is satisfied with present methods of marketing and prices. If not join the pools.

WARNING TO LIVE STOCK SHIPPERS

On account of the damaged condition of a large proportion of live stock, especially hogs, being shipped to the packing plants Shippers are being notified that in future each individual shipment would be inspected on the killing floor and in all probability the damage found would be charged back to the shipper. The damage mentioned is caused from stick marks, wire marks, pitch forks and all manner of rough usage. Farmers should be careful in loading and driving cattle, as eventually any loss caused in this way will fall on the producer.

 Stiles: "Well, I thought it was too realistic."
 "Really?"
 "Yes; is said on the program. 'One hour' is supposed to elapse between the 1st and 2nd acts, and it actually did."

A council was discussing the "rages of the cemetery" superintendent when one member suggested that they should bury the question.

One or two people laughed. The chairman remonstrated. This, he said, was not a subject for punning—it was far too grave. Then they all laughed.

NO INCREASE IN CATTLE RATE

The report that the conference of steamship lines had raised the rate on cattle from Canada to the United Kingdom above $20 to $25 a head was corrected by Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways in the House of Commons today. Mr. Graham replied that he had received a telegram saying that only one line had increased their rate on cattle and that that increase had immediately been withdrawn.
